Day 4 – Orkhon Waterfall

After breakfast, travel to the breathtaking Orkhon Waterfall (Ulaan Tsutgalan), located in the heart of the legendary Orkhon Valley – often called the “Valley of Nomads.” This UNESCO-recognized cultural landscape has been the cradle of nomadic civilization for more than 5,000 years and was once the center of great steppe empires, including the Uyghur and Mongol Empires.

Formed by ancient volcanic eruptions and shaped by the powerful Orkhon River, the waterfall cascades dramatically into a deep canyon surrounded by vast grasslands and grazing herds. Travel guide & Tips

Mongolia is known for its vast landscapes and rapidly changing weather, so we recommend bringing comfortable outdoor clothing and dressing in layers. Even during summer, mornings and evenings can become cool, especially in the countryside. A light waterproof jacket, comfortable walking shoes, sunscreen, sunglasses, and a hat are highly recommended for outdoor activities.

While staying in ger camps and visiting remote areas, facilities may be simpler than in the city, but they offer an authentic experience of Mongolian nomadic life. Internet connection can be limited outside Ulaanbaatar, so preparing offline maps or essential information in advance can be helpful.

Mongolian people are known for their warm hospitality, and guests are always welcomed with respect.

When visiting monasteries or nomadic families, modest clothing and respectful behavior are appreciated. Horseback and camel riding activities are suitable even for beginners, and local guides will assist you throughout the experience.
